

WILSON'S MESSAGE READY, BUT HE MAY NOT SEND IT TO CONGRESS AS PROMISED

Huerta Being Pressed By European Powers and Is Now Commencing to See Reason---Pres- ident Allows More Arms to Cross Border.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
WASHINGTON, August 25.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Foreign governments, some of which have recognized the Huerta government in Mexico, are exerting such pressure on it to yield to the demands of the United States that developments may cause President Wilson to defer the reading of his message to congress on Tuesday. Administration officials took that view today.

Dispatches from John Lind describe a more conciliatory disposition on the part of the Huerta officials as a result of the senate debate here Thursday, in which President Wilson was almost unanimously endorsed in his efforts to bring about peace.

President Wilson's insistence on the original proposals had the effect of sending an envoy, either Emilio Rabasa or Frederico Gammon, to discuss the situation with President Wilson. The United States has informed Huerta that unless the envoy brought a favorable answer to the American note his mission would be fruitless.

No envoy is now expected, but the result of the foreign pressure is expected to bring about new developments within a few days.

Reads Message to Bryan.
President Wilson meanwhile has practically completed his message to congress and read it over to Secretary Bryan late today.

Arms for Federals.
President Wilson has granted permission for the exportation of two thousand rifles and $50,000 cartridges to the Huerta government, some of which go to Vera Cruz from New Orleans, and others will be shipped from El Paso via Juarez. Some of the latter already have gone.

DESERTER HELD; MURDER SUSPECT

Second Artilleryman Caught on Coast—Police Say They Do Not Want Him.

EUREKA, California, August 24.—(By Associated Press Cable)—Herman Refenstein was arrested aboard the British steamship Cape Finisterre on its arrival yesterday from Honolulu, charged as a deserter from the Second Field Artillery, Schofield Barracks, Oahu. The captain informed the authorities that he understood Refenstein was wanted by the Honolulu police authorities for complicity in the murder of Kikura Hirai, a Japanese hachman, on the night of August 11.

Not Wanted by Police.
Chief McDuffie stated last night that Refenstein was not wanted in connection with the murder of the Japanese hachman at Iwilei. Two soldiers—Smith and Lyons—are now held on a charge of murder, and as far as the police knew, there was a third party connected with the tragedy.

The day the British steamship Cape Finisterre sailed from Honolulu for Eureka three soldiers were seen on the wharf, and when the vessel left the wharf only two returned to town. This gave rise at the time to the rumor that one of the men, who was afterwards identified as Refenstein, was not only a deserter, but an accessory to the murder of the hachman.

slavery, is to come off within a few hours, with the probabilities that he will be found guilty and sentenced to a term in the penitentiary, the bitterness which Mrs. Caminetti, his young wife, expressed first against him is still apparent in her references to the case. She still declares that she hopes he will be convicted and declared a felon and that he will be given the maximum sentence allowed by law.

The announcement of Caminetti that he will do whatever lies in his power to protect Lola Norris, the young girl with whom he eloped to Reno and for whose sake he now faces the courts, has not helped soften the anger and disgust which his wife feels towards him. Miss Norris is the principal witness for the prosecution and will face Caminetti during the trial.

LOOKING FOR NEW PASTOR

WAILUKU, August 25.—At a meeting of the Vestry of the Church of the Good Shepherd, held on Tuesday of this week, action relative to the selection of a pastor was taken. It was agreed by those present that a slightly increased stipend be offered to a suitable priest.

Canon Ault of Honolulu, clerk of board of council of advice, was notified by the vestry of the action taken, and as soon as suitable arrangements can be made, he will communicate with the bishop, who is now on the mainland.

For the present, the Rev. John Bodel of Lahaina will fill the pulpit at the morning services and will also aid in the Sunday School work. Mr. Bodel was unable to be present at the Sunday School session last Sunday, but hopes to be able to attend tomorrow. DANCE AND LUAU IN NEW ARMORY

LAHAINA, August 25.—On Saturday evening last the official opening of the Lahaina armory was celebrated by a splendid dance to which a number of Wailuku people were invited. There were over four hundred people present at the ball. The floor was in excellent condition and the cool sea breeze made the hall feel as if it were located in a far different climate from that of the Hawaiian Islands.

The reception committee met every body and the master of ceremonies saw to it that strangers got introductions to partners for the giddy waltz and festive two-step.

There were two luau during the afternoon and evening and the best of good things were found in abundance. The second luau was provided by the "boys" of Company 1, and they "did themselves proud" over the affair. The dancing was carried on till the small hours and then everybody wended their way homewards feeling happy although tired.

CANADIANS DO NOT WANT THAW IN PRIZE RING

He Is Told Bluntly That He Can Not Stay and Is Given Choice of Leaving Voluntarily for Vermont or Facing Extradition Proceedings Brought by New York State.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

SHERBROOKE, Quebec, August 25.—(Special to The Advertiser)—An ultimatum that he personally must decide whether he shall be sent to Vermont or stay in Canada and face the result of legal proceedings instituted by New York State, was served on Harry K. Thaw today by Canadian authorities. Thaw must make the choice himself as his lawyers refuse the responsibility. He concluded not to make any decision before Monday, the earliest.

Despite his appeal to the British sense of fair play, the fugitive was bluntly told that he is an unwelcome guest, but that if he wanted to go to Vermont the Canadian authorities would help him get there.

This means that New York authorities will not be able to arrest Thaw while in Canada.

LURID NOTORIETY AND MAUDLIN PUBLICITY

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
NEW YORK, August 25.—(Special to The Advertiser)—The lurid notoriety and maudlin publicity Evelyn Thaw has managed to get from her unfortunate husband's escape from Matteawan is a menace to the country's girlhood and motherhood.

This was the declaration today of Mrs. Julian S. Heath, president of the Housewives' League, who bitterly denounced the publicity given the utterances of Thaw's wife. "Unsophisticated and romantic girls," continued Mrs. Heath, "are apt to think the way to realize their ambitions is to imitate Mrs. Thaw. Her repeated utterances are an insult to motherhood. She constantly drags her own child into the publicity scramble. She shows no consideration either for Thaw's mother."

PHILADELPHIANS WIN AT THE NETS

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
NEWPORT, Rhode Island, August 25.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Waller F. Johnson and R. Norris Williams II, both of Philadelphia, won their matches today in the sixth round of the All Comers' tournament for the National Lawn Tennis Championship.

Johnson put out John R. Strachan of San Francisco, by three sets to two, by scores of 2-4, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4. Williams eliminated W. M. Washburn of New York in straight sets by 6-1, 7-5, 6-3.

DRAWN TO DEATH BY GALLOPING HORSE

WAILUKU, Maui, August 25.—On Tuesday afternoon last little Kaulana Waa, six years of age, was killed at Makawao through being dragged about five hundred feet by a horse. The child's neck was broken and there were also some internal injuries. The deputy sheriff investigated the matter and, as the evidence of accidental death was conclusive, no inquiry was held.

It seems that the child was accustomed to lead the family horse down to the pasture every day.

On Tuesday afternoon, between three and four o'clock, the little one put a short rope around the horse's neck and started off to the pasture. The horse, which was a very quiet animal, went along meekly enough. The child was holding the end of the rope in his hand as he walked down the trail.

Some time afterwards, as the boy was missing, the parents went to look for him. They were horrified to find the child being dragged around the pasture, at the end of the tethering rope, by the terrified horse, which kept up a wild gallop. The animal was stopped and then it was seen that the rope had been tied with a slip-knot around the waist of the little boy. The post mortem, which was conducted by Doctor Durney, revealed the fact that the neck was broken. From what can be gathered it seems that the child led the horse for some distance and then, for some reason or another, made the rope around his waist. The horse became frightened at something and bolted. The slip-knot tightened and the child was then dragged around till death came.

TRAGEDY AGAIN IN PRIZE RING

Sparring Partner of Man Killed at Calgary Meets Death Himself in Almost Identical Fashion in Los Angeles—Concussion of the Brain Follows a Heavy Blow to the Jaw.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

LOS ANGELES, August 25.—(Special to The Advertiser)—After lingering all night, following an operation necessitated by a blow from the gloved fist of Jess Willard, at Vernon Arena last night, Jimmy (Bull) Young, the Wyoming heavyweight, died in the Clara Barton Hospital at half-past nine this morning.

Young suffered a cerebral hemorrhage and concussion of the brain. He was rushed to a hospital, where the small chance of saving his life was taken and his skull was trepanned. The operation was performed at one o'clock this morning, but the big fighter failed to rally.

Two minutes after Willard and Young had stepped together in the opening round Willard's superiority was evident. Neither boxer knew much about the game, but Young was a rank novice and apparently had no assets but his enormous bulk and strength and a willing heart. Through ten rounds the men boxed without Willard accumulating a mark of battle. The end came about the middle of the following round.

The Fatal Blow.

Young had adopted rushing tactics, and Willard, timing his charges, met one with a fearful right uppercut. The blow landed squarely on the point of his opponent's chin, stopping him. Young's whole frame quivered, his knees sagged, and as he sank to the canvas his body seemed to buckle. He sat on his haunches swaying, and finally flopped backward to the mat, unconscious.

Doctor Scroggs, the club physician, aided Young's seconds in their attempts to revive him. He soon was joined by three other physicians. After half an hour's ineffectual work an ambulance was secured and Young was taken to the hospital.

Promoters Arrested.

The promoters of the fight, Thos. J. McCarrey and Al Greenwald, and the referee, Chas. Eytan, gave themselves up to the authorities when they learned of Young's death. It is said they would be held as accessories.

Besides Willard, Greenwald, McCarrey and Eytan, the warrant for the arrest also called for the taking into custody of Harry Gilmore, Jr., Willards' manager; Tom Jones, Young's manager; Al Harner, timekeeper at the Vernon Arena; Harry Monahan, Young's trainer, and Jim Cameron, a negro fighter, Jack Davis and Eddie Webster.

The last four acted as seconds for the fighters last night.

All twelve defendants, immediately after they had been taken into custody, appeared before Justice of the Peace Summerfield, who fixed Willard's bail at $5000 and that of each of the others at $1500. Their preliminary examinations were set for August 29.

A Strange Coincidence.

It is a strange coincidence that Young, the dead pugilist, was the sparring partner of McCarrey, the pugilist who was killed under almost identical circumstances a few weeks ago in Calgary, Alberta, by a blow from Arthur Pelkey, the claimant for the heavy-weight championship.

PELKEY UNNERVED BY SECOND DEATH

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
LOS ANGELES, August 25.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Arthur Pelkey probably will cancel his match here with Charley Miller of San Francisco next month and may retire from the ring as the result of Young's death today. Friends of Pelkey made this prediction today, stating that Pelkey is completely unnerved by the Young affair.

CLAUDINE TO BE ALTERED

WAILUKU, August 25.—There is, apparently, little chance of the steamer Kilanea being put on the Honolulu-Kahului-Hana run, instead of the Claudine. The Inter-island Company was approached on the subject, but the manager showed conclusively that the Kilanea could not be made to pay her way if put on the Maui run. However, the Inter-island people said that extensive alterations were to be made to the Claudine, and that she would be a better boat to travel on when the changes were completed.

The proposal that the Kilanea should take the Claudine run was hailed with delight by those people who have occasion to go down to Honolulu frequently. It was thought that some arrangement could be made to have the larger and newer steamer put on. Influential interests did their best, but very little encouragement could be given them.

It is reported that very little freight is offering nowadays, and that the sugar plantation people are lying low on the subject of supplies. There is hope, it is claimed, of later on getting a better boat than the Claudine for the Maui run, but at the present there appears to be nothing doing along that line.
